

Personal Mobile Shopping Guide & Marketplace For Clean Skincare

April 2022

ASEIKO Skin is a young company based in Hamburg, Germany. Our easy-to-use mobile solution - we call her simply ASEIKO, is an AI-based algorithm that customers can use on-the-go to make decisions about the skincare products they wish to buy.

ASEIKO analyses extensive data and rules that enable her to classify the current skin condition of the user in real time and to recommend the most suitable skincare products for a specific skin concern. Her mission is to offer a wide range of clean products, build a strong international community solely focused on skincare and strengthen direct contact between skincare brands and their specific customer groups.

At ASEIKO we will be happy to work with and represent brands that already meet the needs of their customers with responsibility, transparency and product safety.

Why to cooperate with us? Facts to consider.
